Chairperson Foreword

I am pleased to present the Lisburn & Castlereagh PCSP Annual Report for 2024-25, which reflects another year of dedicated partnership working across our council area to enhance community safety and build confidence in policing.

Throughout this year, our partnership has continued to respond to the priorities identified by our communities. From addressing anti-social behaviour and hate crime to delivering road safety initiatives and supporting vulnerable residents, the breadth of our work demonstrates the commitment of elected members, independent members, designated organisations, and our community partners to making Lisburn & Castlereagh safer for everyone.

This report showcases the tangible impact of collaborative problem-solving. Whether through engagement events that have brought us closer to residents, crime prevention schemes that have empowered individuals and businesses to protect themselves, or early intervention programmes that have diverted young people from harmful behaviours, our collective efforts have made a measurable difference. Community safety is a shared responsibility, and this year's achievements are testament to the strength of partnership working between statutory agencies, voluntary organisations, and the communities we serve. I want to extend my thanks to all PCSP members, our partner organisations, and particularly to residents across the district who have engaged with and supported our initiatives.

As we reflect on this year's work, we remain committed to listening to our communities, identifying emerging issues, and delivering responsive, inclusive solutions that help create a safer, more confident Lisburn & Castlereagh.

Councillor Sharon Lowry,
Chairperson, Lisburn & Castlereagh PCSP

Executive Summary

Overall Performance

- The Lisburn & Castlereagh PCSP delivered an integrated programme of policing and community safety activity throughout 2024-25, demonstrating strong multi-agency coordination and meaningful engagement with communities across the district. The partnership successfully balanced planned activities with flexibility to respond to emerging needs and demonstrated high levels of satisfaction across all engagement and training activities.
- Key outcomes show measurable progress on priority issues. Drug-related offences reduced compared with the previous year, reflecting coordinated prevention and enforcement efforts. Domestic abuse incidents decreased, indicating success of awareness and support programmes. These reductions signal that partnership-based approaches to community safety are translating into real improvements for residents.

Breadth of Work

The PCSP's work spans three interconnected strategic areas covering the full spectrum of policing and community safety:

- Community Engagement and Consultation ensured residents' voices shaped local policing and safety priorities through extensive consultation events and ongoing feedback mechanisms. This enabled communities to influence PCSP action planning and helped the partnership remain responsive to emerging concerns.
- Community Safety Interventions addressed priority crime and safety issues through dedicated workstreams. Anti-social behaviour prevention combined enforcement with youth engagement and community support. Drug and alcohol awareness programmes provided education on substance misuse harms and support pathways. Hate crime work built community resilience among vulnerable groups. Domestic and sexual violence initiatives strengthened support services and increased understanding of healthy relationships. Cybercrime awareness equipped communities with practical online safety knowledge. Road safety efforts protected vulnerable road users. Organised crime prevention work addressed paramilitarism and serious organised crime threats. Crime prevention initiatives gave residents practical tools and advice to protect themselves and their properties.
- Policing Accountability and Youth Engagement strengthened community confidence through oversight of police performance, engagement with young people on rule of law and civic participation, and direct dialogue between communities and policing leadership. Supporting structures included neighbourhood watch coordination and multi-agency partnerships bringing together statutory agencies, community organisations, and voluntary sector partners.

Community Impact

- Increased Safety and Confidence: Communities reported feeling safer following engagement with PCSP initiatives. Participants in awareness and training programmes reported increased confidence in their ability to stay safe, seek help, and report crime. Community members felt more informed about local safety issues and support services available to them.

- Changed Behaviours and Attitudes: Young people engaged in safety programmes demonstrated positive behavioural change. Residents who attended cybercrime and scam awareness sessions indicated increased likelihood to report crimes they witnessed. Participants in domestic and sexual violence training showed increased understanding of support services and willingness to seek help. Communities reported stronger relationships with statutory agencies and increased trust in policing.
- Strengthened Community Bonds: Partnership activities and engagement events built relationships between communities and agencies. Communities experienced themselves as partners in safety rather than passive recipients of services, strengthening collective capacity to address local issues. Neighbourhood watch and community safety schemes enabled residents to take active roles in their own safety.
- Support for Vulnerable Groups: Targeted work with young people, older adults, migrant communities, and economically disadvantaged areas ensured inclusive approaches to safety. Communities experiencing the greatest challenges (from anti-social behaviour to domestic abuse to organised crime threats) received focused support and had their voices heard in priority-setting.
- Visible Progress on Crime Issues: Documented reductions in priority crime areas provided evidence that partnership efforts translate into tangible improvements. Communities saw police responsiveness to identified concerns and witnessed coordinated multi-agency action on local safety issues.
- Empowerment and Agency: Through consultation, awareness programmes, and community-led initiatives, residents moved from feeling overwhelmed by local safety issues to understanding available support and their own role in building community resilience.

Looking Forward

- The 2024-25 programme demonstrated the PCSP's capacity to coordinate integrated policing and community safety work at scale. Evidence of crime reduction, high community satisfaction, and strong partnership engagement provide a foundation for continued progress on priority issues. Sustained investment in prevention, ongoing engagement with high-need communities, and maintained multi-agency cooperation position the partnership to address emerging challenges and build on the year's achievements.

PCSP Introduction

Background of the PCSP

Lisburn & Castlereagh is a diverse and fast-growing council area on the south-west edge of Belfast, home to circa 145K residents. It combines busy urban centres, expanding suburbs and strong rural village communities, creating a mix of city life, countryside living and close-knit neighbourhoods. Key settlements include Lisburn City, Castlereagh, Carryduff, Dundonald, Moira, Hillsborough, Glenavy and Derriaghy.

The area has a young and working-age population, alongside a growing older demographic, creating demand for services across the life course. It shows sharp contrasts - with many areas experiencing high employment, strong educational outcomes and new housing growth, while other neighbourhoods face persistent deprivation, health inequalities and fuel poverty.

Economically, the borough benefits from:

- Strong commuter links to Belfast
- A growing retail, manufacturing and SME base
- Major assets such as Sprucefield, industrial estates and logistics corridors

Lisburn & Castlereagh has a rich sense of place, shaped by:

- The Lagan Valley, Hillsborough Forest, and open countryside
- Deep industrial, agricultural and linen heritage
- Strong traditions of volunteering, faith groups, sports and community activism

The council area is characterised by active community networks, high levels of volunteering, and increasing cultural diversity, with new communities adding to the social fabric. It is a place of contrast and connection - where rapid growth sits alongside long-standing village identity, and where community pride remains a defining strength.

The Lisburn & Castlereagh City Council area, within which the PCSP operates, covers a mix of urban and rural settings - including the city of Lisburn, Dundonald, surrounding villages, and countryside areas. Policing is structured with stations in Lisburn and Dundonald, supported by Local Policing Response Teams and Neighbourhood Policing Teams embedded across the district to ensure strong local engagement. You'll find more details here:

<https://www.psni.police.uk/about-us/local-policing/lisburn-and-castlereagh-lisburncastlereagh.gov.uk+1>.

According to the latest demographic data from the Council's Equality Screening documentation, approximately (of the circa 150K residents) 19% of residents are under 14 years old, 30% fall within the 15–39 age bracket, 33% are aged 40–64, and 18% are 65 or older - with a notably higher-than-average proportion aged 85 and above. Around 6% were born outside the UK and Ireland, including migrant communities and refugees. Additionally, 32% of residents live with long-term health conditions, and 14% provide unpaid care. This demographic profile underscores the need for inclusive, intergenerational, and accessible safety initiatives. Full details can be found here: https://www.lisburncastlereagh.gov.uk/documents/d/guest/good-relations-equality-screening-2024-25-pdf\_lisburncastlereagh.gov.uk+1.

Together, these features - multi-agency governance, community consultation, localised policing, and a diverse demographic context - highlight the essential role of the PCSP in shaping responsive and inclusive community safety strategies across Lisburn & Castlereagh.

Lisburn & Castlereagh PCSP is a statutory body jointly funded by the Department of Justice and the Northern Ireland Policing Board. It brings together ten elected councillors, nine independent community members, and representatives from key statutory agencies: the Youth Justice Agency, Probation Board for Northern Ireland, Housing Executive, Education Authority, Police Service of Northern Ireland (PSNI), Health and Social Care Trust, and the Northern Ireland Fire and Rescue Service. The PCSP operates through two primary strands: a Policing Committee, tasked with police oversight and strengthening public engagement, and a Community Safety function that focuses on delivering initiatives to prevent crime and enhance community safety. You can read more on the Council's website here: <https://www.lisburncastlereagh.gov.uk/w/policing-and-community-safety-partnership-lisburncastlereagh.gov.uk>.

The role of the PCSP includes consulting and engaging with the community to identify local concerns related to policing and safety, setting priorities, monitoring police performance, and encouraging broader cooperation between communities and statutory bodies. Its community safety work emphasises delivering practical responses through collaboration with partner organisations and local delivery groups - again detailed on the Council's page: <https://www.lisburncastlereagh.gov.uk/w/policing-and-community-safety-partnership-lisburncastlereagh.gov.uk>.

The Police Service of Northern Ireland (PSNI) plays a central role in the delivery of the Lisburn & Castlereagh PCSP Action Plan. Through active partnership working, the PSNI contributes expertise, resources, and frontline engagement to address priority issues including anti-social behaviour, drugs and alcohol misuse, hate crime, burglary, road safety, domestic and sexual abuse, cybercrime, and vulnerabilities linked to organised crime. The PSNI supports the development and delivery of local initiatives, participates in consultation and engagement exercises, and works alongside statutory, community, and voluntary partners to design effective responses to emerging issues.

As part of its contribution, the PSNI provides a visible policing presence, intelligence sharing, and operational support to ensure that local interventions are informed by up-to-date community safety information. It engages directly with residents to build confidence in policing, supports early intervention approaches for vulnerable individuals, and contributes to education and awareness campaigns that help prevent crime. In addition, the PSNI works through the PCSP structures - particularly the Policing Committee - to maintain local accountability and ensure that policing priorities remain closely aligned with the needs of communities across the Lisburn & Castlereagh area.

Through this collaborative role, the PSNI helps strengthen trust and confidence in policing, improve community safety outcomes, and contribute to the wider goal of making Lisburn & Castlereagh a safer and more resilient place for all who live, work, and visit.

- drawing on best practice, promote early intervention and collaborating effectively to improve PCSP-supported projects and programmes that address the underlying causes of ASB, crime and the fear of crime in the community, including, where appropriate, a focus on changing behaviours;
- enhancing safety and feelings of safety, in particular for those who might be more vulnerable;
- engaging with partners in the district, to horizon scan in order to respond to and re-direct resources to respond to emerging local community safety issues;
- having cognisance of the Community Safety Framework in developing local plans, and providing a feedback loop to the Community Safety Board on local issues in order to inform community safety policy development – and vice versa; and

Providing comprehensive community input into decision making processes about tackling actual and perceived anti-social behaviour and giving feedback to the community on the effectiveness of interventions on meeting outcomes.

Key Achievements

The ASB workstream delivered a comprehensive programme of intervention, education, and partnership-based activity throughout 2024-25. The partnership utilised multi-agency approaches to address anti-social behaviour through both prevention (education and diversionary activities) and response (outreach patrols and referrals).

Key Features:

- Lisburn SAFE Programme: Established in 2011 following community and police consultation, with a Memorandum of Understanding agreed by PSNI, PCSP, and Lisburn Community Safety Partnership. The programme continued to deliver targeted outreach in emerging hotspot areas, including Ballybeen and surrounding localities.
- Volunteer-led Delivery: 4,285 volunteer hours deployed through Community Safety Wardens and partner organisations, demonstrating strong community investment in addressing ASB.
- Youth Focus: 194 young people engaged through 12 diversionary projects, with consistently high satisfaction rates (89-92%) and strong behaviour change indicators (87-96.9%).
- Early Intervention: Education sessions delivered across schools and youth groups to build resilience and awareness of ASB impacts among young people.
- Referral Pathways: 48 referrals made to statutory and voluntary organisations, enabling young people and residents to access appropriate support services.

Impact Summary

The early part of the year (Q1-Q2) demonstrated significant progress, with reductions of 24.6% and 18.5% in ASB incidents within targeted hotspot areas. This reflected the effectiveness of coordinated early intervention and outreach activity. However, Q4 data showed a 3% increase in ASB incidents, indicating emerging pressures that require sustained and potentially enhanced intervention going forward.

Despite this increase, the programme maintained high levels of engagement, satisfaction, and behaviour change among participants, demonstrating the value of the preventative approach.

Partner Network

Activity increased over time, with referrals rising from 28 → 32 → 50, indicating growing awareness and demand.

How Well Did We Do It?

- 100% satisfaction rate recorded in every quarter through callback monitoring
- Consistent delivery quality despite increased volume

- Strong operational performance and service reliability

Is Anyone Better Off?

Across all quarters, outcomes were exceptionally strong and consistent:

- 100% of participants felt safer
- 100% reported increased confidence in PSNI
- 100% more likely to engage with PSNI
- 100% more likely to report crime

This demonstrates not just crime-prevention impact, but confidence-building and trust-building outcomes, which are central to long-term community safety.

Turn the Curve Insight

The data shows a clear positive curve:

- Increasing reach and uptake

Overview of Drugs and Alcohol Workstream

Key Achievements

The Drugs and Alcohol workstream delivered a multi-faceted approach to awareness raising, early intervention, and harm reduction during 2024-25. The programme combined education, targeted support for individuals, and community-based initiatives to address substance misuse across the council area.

Key Initiatives:

- Educational Delivery: The use of innovative theatre-based learning through DMS Charity Drugs Awareness Plays proved highly effective in engaging young people, reaching 540 students across 3 post-primary schools in Q4 alone. This approach makes complex substance misuse issues accessible and memorable for school-age audiences.

- Targeted Support Programmes: Consistent delivery of 18-20 participants per quarter engaged in targeted intervention initiatives, with high satisfaction rates (81-85%) indicating relevance and quality of provision.
- Partnership Approach: Strong collaboration with Lisburn Drugs and Alcohol Forum, SEDACT, ASCERT, and other specialists ensured evidence-based, coordinated delivery aligned with broader regional substance misuse strategies.
- Harm Reduction: 5 RAPID bins provided accessible drug disposal options, supporting community members (particularly older people managing prescription medicines) to safely dispose of unused or unwanted drugs.

Comparative Outcome Data

The workstream contributed to a broader positive trend in recorded drug offences:

- 10.1% reduction in drug offences year-on-year
- 17.3% reduction in drug possession incidents year-on-year

This reduction reflects the effectiveness of combined prevention, awareness, early intervention, and enforcement efforts across the partnership.

Emerging Insight

The comments section highlighted that RAPID bins primarily contain prescription tablets rather than illicit drugs, indicating a significant proportion of disposal relates to older age populations managing medication. This reinforces the need for continued awareness raising around safe medicine disposal practices, particularly targeting older adults and those managing long-term health conditions.

Partner Network

The workstream benefitted from coordinated partnership working with:

PSNI, Lisburn Drugs and Alcohol Forum, SEDACT, Resurgam Healthy Living Centre, ASCERT, South East Regional College, and DMS Charity

Overview of Hate Crime Workstream

Key Achievements

The Hate Crime workstream delivered targeted awareness raising and community engagement focused on preventing hate crime, supporting victims, and building community confidence to report incidents. The approach emphasised partnership with affected communities, particularly those experiencing intersectional discrimination (ethnic minorities, LGBTQ+ communities, disabled people, faith communities).

Key Initiatives:

- Awareness Raising Sessions: 5 dedicated awareness raising events delivered to communities most affected by hate crime, with consistent 100% satisfaction rates reflecting the relevance and quality of content.
- Cultural Diversity Day (May 2024): The partnership hosted a significant community engagement event as part of Hate Crime Awareness Week planning. The Q3 event attracted 140 community members, demonstrating strong community appetite for dialogue on hate crime and cultural diversity. This event created important space for BAME communities to engage with PCSP, PSNI, and supporting agencies.
- Community-Led Approach: Strong representation from ethnic minorities, LGBTQ+ communities, disability advocates, and victim support services ensured events were designed with and by affected communities rather than for them.
- Multi-Agency Coordination: Consistent involvement of 5-12 partner agencies per event ensured comprehensive support pathways, information sharing, and coordinated response capability.

Emerging Context

The scorecard notes that while hate crime offences reduced year-on-year, the partnership remains conscious of underreporting as a factor. This highlights the critical importance of ongoing community engagement and awareness raising to build confidence in reporting and support systems - work that this workstream directly addresses.

Community Impact

The exceptionally high participation in Q3 Cultural Diversity Day (140 participants) signals strong community willingness to engage on these sensitive topics when events are designed with appropriate cultural sensitivity and community partnership. Universal 100% satisfaction rates and 100% of participants indicating they would be more likely to report hate crime and engage support services suggests the awareness raising is translating into behavioural intent and community confidence.

Partner Network

The workstream benefitted from coordinated partnership working with:

PSNI, Victim Support, Rainbow Project, Disability Community representatives, and Ethnic Minority community leaders.

Universal 100% satisfaction across all quarters indicates campaigns are reaching target audiences effectively.
- Ending Violence Against Women and Girls (EVAWG) Funding: Access to specialist funding through EVAWG Momentum and Change programmes enabled delivery of 11 additional events in Q4 and secured commitment for 5 new projects during 2025-26, expanding the partnership's capacity to address this priority.

This underscores the continued importance of awareness raising and community engagement to build confidence in reporting and support systems—directly addressed by this workstream's activities.

Community Impact

The exceptional Q4 participation (1,108 participants) following EVAWG Momentum funding demonstrates the importance of targeted, specialist funding in expanding reach. ## Overview of Cybercrime Workstream

Key Achievements

The Cybercrime workstream delivered accessible, practical awareness raising on internet safety and financial fraud prevention throughout 2024-25. The emphasis was on reaching vulnerable populations (particularly older adults and young people) to build resilience against increasingly sophisticated cyber threats.

Key Initiatives:

- Escalating Reach: Participation more than tripled across the year (130 in Q2 to 382 in Q4), reflecting successful promotion and growing community recognition of cybercrime risks. This trajectory suggests sustained demand for ongoing education.
- Targeted Vulnerability Focus: The workstream prioritised vulnerable populations—older adults targeted by financial scams and young people at risk of sextortion, online exploitation, and identity theft. This focus reflects the emerging threat landscape and community concerns highlighted in the baseline narrative.

- Multi-Platform Delivery: 38 social media posts across quarters complemented in-person sessions, extending reach to digitally-active audiences and providing ongoing reminders of key safety practices.
- Practical Safety Training: Sessions focused on actionable advice (password protection, recognising phishing, reporting mechanisms, support services), enabling participants to immediately apply learning.
- Partnership with Specialist Agencies: Coordination with True Call (nuisance call blocking), Ulster Bank (financial fraud expertise), Trading Standards (consumer protection), and PSNI Crime Prevention Officer ensured evidence-based, current content aligned with real threat intelligence.

Emerging Context

The baseline narrative notes criminals increasingly target vulnerable persons via computer or mobile phone, requiring continual reinforcement of educational messages. The workstream's universal 100% satisfaction and knowledge/behaviour change outcomes demonstrate this educational investment is effective.

Community Impact

The exceptional growth in participation (773 total across the year, with Q4 representing 49% of annual participation) reflects both increasing cybercrime awareness in the community and confidence in the PCSP and partners' ability to provide practical, relevant guidance. The universal reporting of increased online safety confidence and likelihood to report cybercrimes suggests the workstream is building not just awareness but also community resilience.

Partner Network

The workstream benefitted from coordinated partnership working with:

True Call, Ulster Bank, Trading Standards, and PSNI Crime Prevention Officer.

This included the deployment and rotation of Speed Indicator Devices (SIDs), targeted awareness campaigns with schools and community groups, support groups for victims of road traffic collisions, and proactive engagement with the newly established LCCC Road Safety Committee.

PCSP's Road Safety Subgroup continued to meet bi-annually to assess SID placements based on PSNI/DFI input and community concerns. Additionally, a sustained focus was placed on educational messaging for young people and emotional support for those affected by serious collisions.

Youth Council Engagement

The PCSP worked with young people through a constituted Youth Council to provide platform for engagement on policing and community safety matters. Through 13 training and development programmes across the year, young people gained knowledge of local policing priorities, the rule of law, and mechanisms for community influence on policing.

Notably, PSNI involvement in training programmes increased across the year (0 → 1 → 2), demonstrating growing police commitment to direct engagement with young people on policing confidence and rule of law themes. Young people acquired new skills in community advocacy, policing literacy, and civic engagement.

Community and Police Engagement

Area-Based Public Meetings: The partnership delivered 34 area-based public meetings to directly engage residents on local policing and community safety issues. Q3 saw significant activity (24 meetings), with scaling down in Q4. These meetings provided platform for community members to understand local policing priorities, raise concerns, and see evidence of responsive police engagement on identified issues.

Exceptional Q4 Participation: Q4 attendance (1,329 participants) represented 93% of annual area-based meeting attendance, suggesting either a major consolidated event or significant engagement scaling in the final quarter. This extraordinary reach demonstrates community appetite for direct engagement when meetings are accessible and address local concerns.

Text Alert Scheme Growth: The Text Local scheme demonstrated sustained growth (2,550 → 2,655 users, 4.1% annual growth) with 100% satisfaction maintained throughout. 84 alerts sent across the year kept community informed on safety issues, missing persons, and localised policing activity. Universal positive outcomes (100% feeling safer, informed, engaged) indicate the scheme is meeting community expectations.

Contextual Analysis

Scheme Growth and Sustainability

The NHW scheme demonstrated modest but consistent growth (119 up to 121 schemes across three quarters), with 5 new schemes established during the year. This indicates:

- Sustained community interest in formal crime prevention structures
- Successful establishment of new schemes in emerging community clusters
- Existing schemes maintaining their operational viability

Training Escalation

The significant increase in crime prevention sessions (4 to 7 to 19 across quarters) suggests:

- Growing demand from coordinators for updated crime prevention knowledge
- Q4 investment in intensive training delivery to support schemes
- Recognition of need to refresh community knowledge on evolving crime trends

Coordinator Engagement Patterns

The variation in coordinator satisfaction ( 7% to 100%) reflects different cohorts or attendance levels:

- Early quarter engagement with larger coordinator attendance (12 attendees, 7% satisfaction)
- Q4 engagement with smaller, more focused group (4 attendees, 100% satisfaction)
- Suggests different meeting formats or audience composition

CPLC Governance

Consistent 100% CPLC member reporting of increased confidence across all quarters demonstrates the value of the Community Police Liaison Committee structure in facilitating meaningful police-community dialogue.

Partnership Network

The NHW scheme benefitted from coordinated partnership working with:

- PSNI - Crime prevention expertise and visible police support
- Trading Standards - Consumer protection and scam awareness
- Lisburn & Castlereagh Council - Home Safety Manager coordination
- Hillsborough CPLC and Moira CPLC - Local governance structures
- Radius Housing Association - Community housing provider engagement
- Local community - Volunteer coordinators and active scheme members

Policing Committee

Overview

The Policing Committee's scrutiny function forms a critical component of the Lisburn & Castlereagh PCSP's accountability mechanisms and contributes meaningfully to the development and refinement of the Local Policing Plan. Through regular meetings, community consultation, and direct engagement with police leadership, the Committee ensures that local policing priorities remain responsive to community needs and informed by evidence-based performance data.

Role and Function

The Policing Committee discharges its scrutiny responsibilities through:

Local Accountability: Private and public Policing Committee meetings provide a forum for PCSP members to examine police performance against agreed priorities, analyse crime data, and identify emerging concerns requiring police attention or resources.

Community Voice: By translating community concerns gathered through widespread engagement activities into formal scrutiny processes, the Committee ensures that resident priorities inform policing decisions and resource allocation.

Strategic Alignment: The Committee identifies priorities from the PCSP Action Plan for consideration in the development of the Local Policing Plan, ensuring alignment between community-identified needs and police operational planning. This creates feedback loops between community safety priorities and policing strategy.

Collaborative Problem-Solving: Through regular dialogue with the District Commander and police leadership, the Committee facilitates collaborative identification and resolution of local policing issues, moving beyond reactive oversight to proactive partnership on emerging challenges.

Impact on Policing Plan Development

The Committee's scrutiny activities contribute to the Local Policing Plan through several mechanisms:

Evidence-Informed Priorities: Community intelligence, crime analysis, and resident feedback channelled through the Committee inform the identification of priority crime types, geographic hotspots, and vulnerable populations requiring focused policing attention.

Performance Dialogue: Committee scrutiny of police performance metrics creates opportunity for constructive discussion about whether policing resources are being deployed effectively against agreed priorities, informing adjustments to policing strategies.

Responsive Adjustment: Where Committee scrutiny identifies gaps between community concerns and police priorities, or reveals emerging safety issues, these insights feed into Local Policing Plan revision and resource reallocation discussions.

Accountability Framework: The Committee's formal oversight role - examining performance, challenging inaction, and requiring evidence of police responsiveness to identified priorities - reinforces accountability for the delivery of policing commitments contained in the Local Policing Plan.

Stakeholder Confidence

Effective Policing Committee scrutiny supports wider confidence in policing by demonstrating:

- That community voices are heard and acted upon in police decision-making
- That police performance is subject to local democratic scrutiny and accountability
- That policing priorities remain responsive to emerging community concerns
- That partnership-based approaches to local safety are embedded in police operations

Through these functions, the Policing Committee's scrutiny contributes to building and maintaining community confidence in policing and the police's commitment to locally responsive, democratically-accountable service delivery.

Building community confidence in the rule of law

Links with Resurgam

One key way in which LCCC PCSP assists with these matters is through its Project Support Programme – [Project Support Programme launched by PCSP - lisburncastlereagh.gov.uk](http://Project Support Programme launched by PCSP - lisburncastlereagh.gov.uk)

Lisburn & Castlereagh PCSP's Project Support Programme offers grants of £500–£5,000 to local groups for projects that tackle the full spectrum of community-level crime and safety issues. By funding initiatives under two key objectives -reducing anti-social behaviour, addressing drugs and alcohol, supporting victims and reporting of domestic abuse, and building confidence in policing; and reducing fear of crime (especially for vulnerable groups), tackling hate crime, improving road safety, and reducing burglaries and business/retail crime - the programme helps communities address both the causes and consequences of crime. Practical support such as online information sessions and targeted outreach to groups who have not previously engaged means more residents can shape local solutions. Together, these projects can strengthen trust, visibility and early intervention, leading to safer neighbourhoods and lower levels of crime and harm across the council area.

Diverting Young People from Organised Crime Activity

The PCSP contributes to diversion through early intervention and youth engagement that addresses underlying vulnerabilities (lack of opportunity, peer pressure, economic disadvantage).

We have especially strong links with Resurgam Trust – see below:

Resurgam Trust Home - The Resurgam Trust

Lisburn People's Support Project - The Resurgam Trust

Detached outreach provides positive adult relationships and alternative activities. Youth diversionary projects build skills, resilience, and legitimate pathways to employment and education. Direct engagement on rule of law strengthens understanding of consequences. Early identification of at-risk young people enables rapid referral to support services. Family and community involvement strengthens protective factors that buffer against criminal influence.

Community Engagement to Tackle Organised Crime Activity

- Awareness Events: Community-focused sessions raising awareness of organised crime harms, recruitment methods, and impacts on individuals and families.
- Stakeholder Coordination: Regular meetings bringing together PSNI, agencies, businesses, housing providers, and residents to share intelligence and coordinate prevention efforts.
- Consultation on Policing Priorities: Community input through Policing Committee structures on how organised crime affects local areas, enabling targeted police response.
- Targeted Outreach: Direct engagement with communities most affected by organised crime ensures their voices inform strategy and builds institutional trust.
- Community Leader Engagement: Direct work with business owners, community leaders, and trusted figures leverages their credibility to reinforce anti-crime messaging.

Campaigns Supporting Organised Crime Prevention

- Rule of Law Messaging: Reinforces respect for law and consequences of criminality as foundational to community safety.
- Youth Prevention Campaigns: Targeted messaging through social media and schools highlighting risks, peer resistance strategies, and positive alternatives.
- Community Resilience Campaigns: Emphasises communities' capacity to resist criminal influence through collective action and strong social bonds.
- Support-Seeking Campaigns: Makes visible reporting mechanisms and support services available to those experiencing organised crime threats.
- Anti-Recruitment Messaging: Direct campaigns helping young people refuse involvement and access help.

Impact on Communities

- Reduced Vulnerability: Young people engaged show improved school/employment engagement, reduced substance misuse, and stronger family relationships - lowering susceptibility to recruitment.
- Increased Reporting: Communities show greater willingness to report criminal activity, indicating increased trust in authorities.
- Community Cohesion: Engagement activities create social capital and mutual support networks that protect against organised crime entrenchment.
- Behavioural Change: Young people in prevention programmes demonstrate reduced ASB involvement and lower-level criminality.
- Community Awareness: Communities show increased understanding of criminal methods and stronger collective resistance to criminal infiltration.
- Partnership Effectiveness: Multi-agency coordination results in coherent, efficient responses with better targeting of resources.
- Longer-Term Safety: Areas with sustained prevention investment show stabilisation or reduction in organised crime indicators (recruitment, territorial control, violence).
